About

The Industry Common Induction (ICI) provides staff with a health and safety induction for working in construction sites, rail depots and station maintenance. Network Rail has developed it, in partnership with ISLG (Infrastructure Safety Liaison Group) and RIAG (Rail Infrastructure Assurance Group). It covers the safety procedures and risks that are common across the rail industry, whatever the role and type of site.

Who is the Course Suitable for?

This Industry Common Induction (ICI - LU) is intended for staff that will work on London Underground managed infrastructure on behalf of TfL.

Its purpose is to give such staff an initial overview of the risks and their controls that can arise when working in the railway construction project environment. The induction is intended to be a foundation module, covering the general health, safety and environmental issues found in the railway construction project environment. Its primary function is to remove occurrences of repeated briefing of the same subjects across different projects
